Ronald Mendlin, Marc Polonsky : Networking and Interviewing for Jobs before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Networking and Interviewing for Jobs:

Draws on Mike Farris results-oriented techniques for finding the hidden job market, using the Yellow Pages and cold-calling to get interviews, and preparing for the inevitable question about prison time. Teaches readers the best way to answer the question "Why should I hire you?" Examples are specific to ex-offenders and drawn from their real-life experiences.
