

(Download ebook) The Insider's Guide To Political Internships: What To Do Once You're In The Door

The Insider's Guide To Political Internships: What To Do Once You're In The Door

Grant Reeher, Mack Mariani

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#1241392 in Books Grant Reeher Mack Mariani 2002-09-05Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.00 x .60 x 6.00l, .81 #File Name: 0813340160272 pagesThe Insider s Guide To Political Internships What To Do Once You re In The Door | File size: 73.Mb

Grant Reeher, Mack Mariani : The Insider's Guide To Political Internships: What To Do Once You're In The Door before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Insider's Guide To Political Internships: What To Do Once You're In The Door:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Great niche book for political internships.By A CustomerI teach students in political science, and I have had several of them read this book and remark that it is very useful on several levels. First, it helps them conceptualize about the purpose and meaning of their internships. Second, the book helps them understand some of the details of the internships they are likely to secure. It also helps them to get a jump-start on the types of skills and tasks they need in their internships. With internships becoming increasingly important to career-minded students (and their parents), this book is a nice way for students to balance their practical ambitions with their political science education. It is a welcome addition to internships, which too often occur serendipitously and absent any academic perspective. With this book, students are able to think about what they are doing, why they are doing it, and what the internship means for their studies and career interests. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Bang for your buck! By CAIston The book arrived in great, like new condition. The content of the book is extremely helpful for political, bipartisan, and nonprofit internships across the country and especially in Washington, D.C. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Insiders Guide By J. Gallagher Useful information. Harder to get internships than I thought it would be. DC is far more expensive than I expected.

Every year, thousands of college students invade Washington, D.C. and the fifty state capitals to volunteer as political interns. Unfortunately, they are rarely able to hit the ground running, lacking the tools to help them do so. The Insider's Guide to Political Internships provides those tools. This volume contains practical, concise essays written by political professionals and scholars with extensive experience supervising internships, as well as advice from many former interns. The book highlights internships on Capitol Hill, at the White House, in the executive branch, at the state level, in the Congressional district office, and at non-profit groups.

"A tour de force in the field of experiential learning." -- Glen A. Halva-Neubauer, Furman University
"An essential guide to being an intern." -- Eugene J. Alpert, The Washington Center for Internships and Academic Seminars
"An excellent roadmap for political interns working in D.C. or elsewhere." -- The Honorable Susan Molinari, President, The Washington Group
"Teaches you how to outfit yourself in the dotty world of politics." -- Grace Yu, Rhodes Scholar, former White House intern
"The detailed suggestions backed by quotes from interns will guarantee a successful internship experience." -- William D. Coplin, Director of the Public Affairs Program, The Maxwell School of Syracuse University
About the Author Grant Reeher has been teaching a local political internship course every semester for the past three years, and has supervised numerous students in Washington internships over the past ten years. He is also chair of the American Political Science Association's Organized Section on Undergraduate Education, and edits its newsletter, The Political Science Educator. Mack Mariani is Director of Special Projects for the Monroe County Department of Communications and a Ph.D. candidate in Political Science at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University. Previously, he served as an aide to U.S. Representative Bill Paxon and a staff member for the Monroe County Legislature.