(The eclipse glasses were only useful for two hours, but this was helpful for days.)I figured using our mobile phones for navigation wasn't going to work well. There were zillions of people whose mobile phones weren't working because of no signal or too many folks trying to use the bit of signal that was there in eastern Wyoming.We used this map to plan out three possible eclipse sites when it became painfully apparent that the entire population of Denver was going to Glendo.It was particularly handy during the eclipse exodus. The Google Maps users pretty much stayed on the main highways. The Benchmark map helped us find our way around traffic on 85 via paved and unpaved roads--saved us hours.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Helpful in eclipse preparationBy GypsyRoverUsing the Wyoming and Nebraska Recreation Maps and the DeLorme maps for those two states, we were able to find a great location to view the 2017 solar eclipse without a tremendous delay when leaving (unlike those who just blithely bombed up I-25).1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. good mapBy B. BatesThese "Benchmark" maps are very good maps. The old-fashioned folding allows for easy storage. The maps are simply paper and have no moisture resistance - so cannot use them outside the vehicle or dwelling. Sometimes there is so much verbiage on the map that it overpowers the map details. I found that on one map there was a road (I assume 4x4), but it was not included in the map's key. The best maps are made by National Geographic; Trails Illustrated.

The Wyoming Recreation Map is the ideal planning tool for everything outdoors, from a rugged backcountry adventure to a nearby day-hike. It's the only Wyoming folded map that benefits from Benchmark's field-checked accuracy, and cartographic excellence. Includes: extensive back road detail, over 100 campground listings, forest and wildlife areas, boating and fishing, and complete information resources.
